

Adnovum Digital Identity Consulting

More and more data privacy and data access regulations, increasing cybersecurity requirements, and the need to adopt new technologies quickly but securely are all a challenge for the management of digital identities (IAM/IGA). Much is at stake, thus organizations need a clear plan on how to move forward.

Adnovum Digital Identity Consulting provides advice for all aspects of managing client, partner, and employee identities. From formulating a vision to developing a strategy, from drafting a governance to designing the technical architecture, from gathering requirements to conceptual support: there is a right service to support any organization with their digital identities.

Your Benefits

- Adnovum Digital Identity Consulting allows organizations to find the right solutions for managing all their digital identities in a compliant, safe, efficient, and sustainable way.
- With a clear vision and strategy regarding digital identities, organizations are empowered to realize a future mode of operations for their digital identity solutions that optimally supports their business strategy.
- The management of digital identities changes from being an obstacle to becoming an enabler for fast technology adoption, great collaboration within and beyond the organization, and optimal user experience for employees, partners, and customers.

The Solution

- Adnovum Digital Identity Consulting includes services to assess the current situation regarding all (human and non-human) digital identities, determine future needs, identify the gaps that need to be filled and propose concrete measures.
- The services follow a holistic approach that centers around the interplay of technology, organizational measures, and processes. Every organization is different, and only the right combination of these aspects can bring digital identity solutions that maximize value.
- Adnovum designs, implements, and operates digital identity solutions on a daily basis. Our consultants have expert knowledge and can rely on broad experience to give advice that works in the real world.
